SIXTEENTH

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

SPRING GARDEN

FEMALE BIBLE SOCIETY,

AUXILIARY

TO THE

FEMALE BIBLE SOCIETY OF PHILADELPHIA.

Read at the Annual Meeting April 11th 1859.

PHILADELPHIA:
L. R. BAILEY, PRINTER, 26 NORTH FIFTH STREET.
1859.

The Sixteenth Anniversary of the Spring Garden Bible Society, was held on Monday evening April the 11th, 1859, in the Tenth Baptist Church. Rev. Mr. KENNARD presided, Rev. Mr. CHRISTIAN read the annual report, and addresses were delivered by the Rev. Messrs GODDARD, SHEPHERD, and MURREY.

MANAGERS' REPORT.

It has again become our duty to inform our subscribers of the manner in which their contributions have been distributed, as well as of the success vouchsafed to our efforts in the Bible cause. You are aware that we endeavor by calling year after year to make sure that no family within our limits is without the Bible,—at least none that is willing to receive it at our hands, for the fact is painful that many refuse it. As visitors and contributors unite in recognizing how great a gift is the word of God to man, how great the blessing that has preserved it unimpaired to us; as we remember with gratitude how it has enlightened dark places, relieved burdened souls, and been as the river of God to comfort and bless his people, let us recall also through what periods of gloom and persecution it has survived; how often the wrath and malice of Satan against it have been displayed in vain, and be stimulated by the thought in the work of making this word so wondrously given and preserved, the possession and blessing of all within our reach. To such as have by the hearing or reading of the word been brought to repentance and faith in Christ, and who know its preciousness, need we say any thing more than to stir up their pure minds by way of remembrance.

Even as you perhaps were, so careless, ignorant, set against the truth, are thousands about you, and will you not delight to hear of, and to sustain the effort to spread that holy word with its message to fallen man. Cannot some engage more actively than by the countenance of their name, and the amount of their contribution in this work? As visitors in this and kindred societies there is room for many helpers, and where this burden is too great allow us to press upon your consciences to how many humbler persons your example will recommend the Bible if by its constant perusal you make it the man of your counsel, and the guide of your life. This has not been the year for though visitation in many of the sections, but some extracts from visitors reports; will show that something has been done.

Says one "Visited one hundred and forty-four families. Excepting four, or five Romanists, all are supplied with the Bible." Another, made one hundred and ninety-six visits, supplied three with Bibles, one woman said "she wanted nothing to do with the Bible." Another "visited one hundred and thirty-two families comprising the entire limits of her section, found twenty-six willing to become subscribers. Among the poorer families some of whom were exceedingly destitute, we distributed seven Bibles, one German and six English. Some of the Bibles given last year we could trace, and find they had been carefully preserved. There are many changes among the tenantry of this section every year, we can only cherish the hope that the Bibles of which we can make no record, fulfill the errand they are designed to accomplish." Another says "have visited eighty-five families, and found one only destitute of a Bible, distributed a number of tracts, and was generally kindly received." Another has supplied four German and seven English families that have recently removed into the district with Bibles, most of them young married persons. The Germans especially seem pleased to get Bibles in their native tongue." In another section they report having made three hundred visits and although having two years ago distributed nineteen Bibles, found at this time fifteen destitute of the word of life, two German families having lost all their effects by fire were delighted to once more possess a Bible in their native tongue.

Another person having but fifty cents to spare gave it to us for a Bible, saying if she could afford it she would give us more."

Another finds many destitute, some of whom refuse Bibles, while others gladly accept it." Still another has visited one hundred and thirty families most of whom are living without God, and without hope in the world.

One family consisting of husband, wife and five children, living so near a church that they can hear the singing, and yet not one of them ever enter a place of worship, had a pleasant conversation with the woman, she promised to send the children to Sabbath school if she could get assistance in clothing them. We found a poor old woman who was a Christian, but had no Bible, she had a small Testament which she could not read, found four others destitute and willing to receive them." Others "report having called on all their subscribers, and visited thoroughly the poorer portion of the section. Supplied five persons with the Bible, one of these was an intelligent Colored man a Christian. He said he had part of a Bible obtained from an old untenanted house, that he had long been desirous of obtaining a complete copy of the word of God. We cheerfully supplied him. We had also a conversation with a young man who some years since received a Bible from one of our loved managers, he seemed impressed with the duty of accepting Christ as He is offered in the gospel. We trust that his impressions may be deepened by the Spirit and that ere long he will be numbered with the people of God." Says another visitor, "With pleasure we are enabled to report with three exceptions promptness and cheerfulness on the part of our subscribers, who seemed pleased to see us on our annual round, and whose kindness greatly strengthened our hands in the work. Found but one case of destitution which was supplied—it was that of a young married woman, the mother of three children who was living without a Bible. At first she was perfectly indifferent about receiving one, but after conversing with her, on the importance of studying the Scriptures and reminding her of her duty as a parent to train up her little ones in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, she acknowledged her errors, and seemed to feel the truth of our remarks. Strange to say her mother is a member of an evangelical church, and she had been a Sabbath school scholar for years. We trust that the vivifying influences of the precious Gospel may yet call forth those hidden seeds, and cause them to spring up and bear fruit to the honor and glory of God.

It is an encouraging fact that a family of five children who were last year persuaded to go to Sabbath school, are still constant in their attendance, although two, have nearly reached adult years.” Many little incidents occur which serve to encourage the visitors, but which are not reported here.

We regret that for the want of visitors, three out of the twenty-nine sections are this year unvisited. We hope to have our list of managers filled, with such as love to work in some humble way in the vineyard of our Master. It may be superfluous in these days of Christian union, when the people of God see eye, to eye, and labor hand, in hand, for the one great object, the glorifying of God in the salvation of sinners; to remind you that nearly all of the evangelical denominations, are represented in our board of managers, working together as members of one family. We thank our subscribers for the cheerfulness by which we have been met, and trust that they may enjoy those blessings they are seeking to dispense to others. May we all be able to say with the Psalmist. “The law of thy mouth is better unto me than thousands of gold and silver.” “Thou hast dealt with thy servant O Lord, according unto thy word.
